PREVENTION EVERY

Chief Stanton Says One Day a Year is Not Sufficient to Prevent Needless Loss By Flames-Carelessness Responsible For 90 Per Cent. of Our Fires-How Fire Prevention Day Movement Started-Where the Responsibility Should Be Placed.

We ought to have Fire Prevention Day every day, said Chief Howard L. Stanton on Friday when asked whether he had any suggestions in regard to the observance of Fire Prevention Day on Monday. That the setting aside of one day in the year to be gener-ally regarded as Fire Prevention Day is a good thing, there can be no controversy. It is, however, a good thing only in a way. Fire Prevention Day is in its inten-tion a good thing, and I subscribe to the intention, but when I see the results of it in the immense piles of rubbish that a general cleaning up produces, I feel a bit sad over it, because to me it is an illustration of how tremendously careless we are by force of habit.

I realize, too, that there is a chemistry of life; that all things are produced by action and reaction and I am wondering if the reaction as shown by the trash piles of Fire Prevention Day is not a demonstration of the fact that like bad doctors, we are treating symptoms and not causes.

General Carelessness The Cause. What cause is there for Fire Prevention Day? Habit and general carelessness, is it not? If then, those things are so, why not go directly to the causes of these results and treat them? Then, too, the reaction caused by Fire Prevention Day means a slump-back at once into the very conitions that produced Fire Prevention Day.

Now, my idea is to go straight to the causes and treat the disease and not the symptoms. Ninety per cent of our fires are the result of carelessness somewhere, somehow, on the part of somebody and that this is a fact is the result of lack of proper self respect and therefore proper respect for oth-ers and for their rights on the part primarily of the best men of the community and in a less degree of every citizen of every community.

I hold that it is the duty as well has the privilege of manhood, to properly oversee and direct every detail of his household affairs and, if this is done every detail of his hearings of done, every detail of his business af-fairs will be properly supervised and directed also. To each individual we have got to go for the curing of this disease of individual carelessness and isregard.

According to a letter received by 'hief Stanton from Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Protection Association of the United States and Canada, this association, he Mutual Safety Council, is promoting the observance of Fire Pre-vention Day this year throughout North America. Special communications have been addressed to the leading commercial or civic organizations in all cities of 10,000 pountation or over. President Wilson and the governors of the various states have been asked to issue proclamations.

The Origin of the Day. It will no doubt be of interest to many Norwich people to learn the origin of Fire Prevention Day—The story goes as follows: On October 5, 1871, one Mrs. O'Leary went out into the barn to milk the cow on her little farm just on the out. skirts of the city of Chicago. It was far from light and she carried a lantern, which she placed on the stable from out the stable and the stable stable and the stable stable stable. floor and then sat down to do her

The return of the Second Infantry will not require a change to be made in the manner of arranging the ballots in packages. While the home town of the military organizations, which remain on the frontier, might suggest the confining of the ballots to three congressional districts representing the First, Fourth and Fifth, there was the possibility that in the organization there might be men entitled to vote in other districts and to meet that possibility ballots for the five districts in the state will be given the commissioners. There will therethe commissioners. There will therefore be five packages as the law con-

There is another possibility which must be provided for in the sending of ballots and that is that the Second infantry may not have started home by the time the commissioners reach Nogales.

In that event the vote should be taken in Nogales, and it would be unfortunate if the commissioners had not a supply of ballots to enable the soldiers to exercise the franchise. It is for that reason that no chances will

The city of Chicago has reason to

In this great movement A Programme For the Day.

In his letters to the governors urg ng them to impress upon the people the seed of preventing the loss of life and property by fire, Frederick H. Elliott, executive secretary of the Safety First Federation, laid down the following programme:
On October 9th all public buildings, factories and homes, be thoroughly cleaned of rubbish accomulation. That all heating, lighting and fire ex-tinguishing apparatus, be examined, and if found defective, properly repaired. That fire drills be held in all the schools, factories an cother places where fire drills are necessary.
